DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claim 1 claims the limitation of "defining each non identical PCB in terms of geometry and features" and "creating a reference image for said panel defined by a location and orientation of said at least one cluster on said panel" are not disclosed in the specification in such a way that an ordinary skilled in the art can enable. Also, for an ordinary skilled in the art the PCB in itself is a panel with components placed in it. Applicant claims a panel with multiple PCBs placed on it, and then taking the images of the panel in order to inspect the panel. These features are not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains.

Claims 6-7 is dependent on claim 1, and therefore they are also rejected.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "sensed information" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claims 6-7 is dependent on claim 1, and therefore they are also rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 1-7 as best understood are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leung (US 4778745).

With respect to claims 1-7, Leung discloses the defect detection in PCB, wherein the PCB's are placed (see figure 1, numerical 11 the dies) in the multiplicity on an panel (see figure 1, numerical 10 the wafer) each of the dies are define by the feature and the geometry and the dies are grouped together and the reference is created (see figure 1 numerical 12) and the panel is inspected. However, he fails to disclose the at least one cluster is defined in terms of amount location and orientation, as claimed. But, the dies are arranged in a manner that define the amount location and the orientation of the dies. Therefore, one ordinary skilled in the art at the time of invention can simply arranged the dies as per the orientation, location and the amount in order to expedite the inspection process.

With respect to claim 2-7, he discloses the inspection process is use the image reorganization process and the elements are simply part of the image reorganization process (see col. 3, lines 20 through col. 4, line 30) as claimed.
